

Privacy Statement

This statement relates to our privacy practices in connection with the Donegal Sexual Abuse and Rape Crisis Centre. We are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of other websites.

General Statement

The Donegal Sexual Abuse and Rape Crisis Centre (DSARCC), as operators of the DSARCC website, respects your rights to privacy, and will not collect any personal information about you on this website without your clear permission. Any personal information which you volunteer will be treated with the highest standards of security and confidentiality, strictly in accordance with the Irish Data Protection Acts, 1998, 2003 and 2018.

Collection and use of personal information

DSARCC does not collect any personal data about you, apart from information you volunteer (for example by emailing us or registering your interest in the project). Any information which you provide in this way is not made available to any third parties and is used by DSARCC only in line with the purpose for which you provided it.

Collection and Use of technical information

Technical details in connection with visits to this website are logged for statistical purposes. No information is collected that could be used by us to identify website visitors. The technical details logged are confined to the following items:

- the IP address of the visitor's web server
- the top-level domain name used (for example .ie, .com, .org, .net)
- the previous website address from which the visitors reached us, including any search items used
- clickstream data which shows the traffic of visitors around this website (for example pages accessed and documents downloaded)
- any searches executed while on our website
- the type of web browser used by the website visitor

DSARCC makes no attempt to identify individual visitors, or to associate the technical details listed above with any individual. It is the policy of DSARCC never to disclose such technical information in respect of individual website visitors to any third party unless obliged to disclose such information by a rule of law. The technical information may be used only by DSARCC and only for statistical and other administrative purposes. You should note that technical details, which we cannot associate with any identifiable individual, do not constitute “personal data” for the purposes of the Data Protection Acts 1988, 2003 and 2018.
